Core Course IXTHEATRE FOR COMMUNICATION

Code	Contact Hrs/ week	Credit	Semester
FEN5B09	5	4	5

Aims

- To impart a general critical understanding of the history of theatre and performance as a powerful medium of creative communication practice
- To introduce the students to modern theatre practice with special focus on the proactive and interactive potential of drama and theatre.
- To stimulate creative exploration of ideas and expression of these ideas through dramatic forms and theatre conventions

Objectives

On the completion of course

1. The student will be familiar with theories related to drama and theatre, both eastern and western from Bharata and Aristotle to modern theatre
2. They will be able to understand and analyse plays in relation to history, culture and theory.
3. They will be empowered in conceptualising and implementing theatrical projects.

Module I

Theatre History- Theatre History will consider theatre from four different perspectives: a. The different contexts within which theatrical activity developed: the social, political and religious contexts. b. The organisation of theatrical activity. c. The development of spatial structures and techniques involved: theatre architecture, and scenography. d. Main contributors: actors, playwrights, theatre managers, directors, and theorists.

Reference to the contribution of important Ancient Greek playwrights: Aeschylus, Sophocles, Euripides, and Aristophanes. Reference to the contribution of important Renaissance playwrights: Shakespeare, Molière, Calderon, Goldoni, and Beaumarchais.

Module II: Realism in Theatre and Twentieth-Century Developments

- a) Realism in theatre – the reproduction of life on stage.
- b) The influences of the Industrial Revolution on theatre and performance.
- c) Reference to important realist playwrights: Chekhov, Ibsen, Strindberg and Shaw.
- d) The turn of the Twentieth-Century and the rise of the actor.
- e) Spaces for performance – formal spaces and alternative dispositions of space.

- f) Important contributors in twentieth-century theatre: Stanislavski – The ‘system’; Brecht – Epic theatre; Grotowski – Poor Theatre and the laboratory dimension. Brief reference to the contribution of major twentieth-century playwrights: Beckett, Brecht, Miller, and Pinter.

PROJECT WORK

Code	Hrs/Week	Credit	Semester
FEN6B16	2	2	6

Aim

The course is entirely devoted to a project which is to be worked on and completed by the student by the end of the sixth semester.

Objective

The project is a specimen document that reflects the student's competence in and mastery of English, ingenuity and workmanship. It provides space to the student's expression of her/his talent, potential and skill in creating his own artifact/product based on the knowledge and art he had acquired through the three-year programme.

The course offers a wide range of topics related to diverse functions of English such as Translation, Media writing, advertisements, investigative journalism and the like.

Project Work

The student can make his choice of topic at the beginning of the 5 semester. The necessary ambience to prepare the student for the project work is to be created in the initial phase of this semester. Apart from the allotted hours, all possible materials like books, language lab etc. are to be fully utilized.

Project Guide

Every student will have a member of faculty as Project Guide. The Project Guide is the facilitator who should (1) Diagnose the difficulties and provide the remediation. (2) Continuously evaluate the progress (3) Give scaffolding/support wherever necessary (4) Promote divergent thinking (5) Facilitate reference/data collection,
