SUMMARY

The department of social work of Christ college (autonomous) Irinjalakuda organized the national conference “ZRAVAS T20” about climate justice; a collective endeavor for system change on 2nd March 11, 2020. Dr. K Nrayana Kuru, chairman of state police complaint authority, former judge, higher court of kerala and acting chief justice, high court of Madras inaugurated the ceremony. We clearly explained about the climate and it's impact and he also argued the policy makers to ensure the climate justice in the society by considering the climatic change as a political issue. The management and staff of social work department presented a cheque for giving the endowment in the memory of our devoted 1st year MSW students Ancy Varghese.

Academic section was conducted by Dr. P A Azeez, the former director of Salim Ali Centre for Ornithology and natural history, Coimbatore) on the topic “ climate change, the driving force and climate justice”. He discussed about various dimensions of climate justice like unequal representations, its impact and vulnerability. He stated that the climate change is a case of systematic and structural violence in the world and its high time to control it through sustainable development. The panel discussion and competition such as debate, spot photography and face painting was conducted for the students part of the conference. The topic for the debate was environmental laws and indigenous people and four teams, consisting of two members each from various colleges had participated in the debate competition. And the winners were awarded cash prizes. The team for spot photography and face painting were coexistence and human and climate respectively. Seven teams for two members each and 32 participants participated for face painting and spot photography respectively. The moderator of panel discussion Dr. Reshma Bharadwaj. Mr. Sanju Soman had an interactive session by taking the audience into the imaginative world at 2050 and thereby he presented effectively about the topic zero carbon and zero poverty. Fr. Joy discussed about the initiative undertaken by the college to ensure climate justice and shared his perspective to climate changes.
