ONE DAY NATIONAL SEMINAR on

Re-Configuring Geo-political Spaces:
New Literatures in the Postcolonial Context

on

14th November 2019

Sir/Madam,

The Post Graduate Department of English, Christ College (Autonomous) is pleased to invite you to the One Day National Seminar on Re-Configuring Geo-political Spaces: New Literatures in the Postcolonial Context on 14th November 2019.

Britain's loss of empire at the outset of Second World War dominantly outlined the world politics especially that of third world countries. Post colonialism emerged in this political scenario and addressed the role of literature in perpetuating and challenging cultural imperialism. The context of emergence of New Literatures is the growing doubt in Euro centrism and its approach of East as irrational, anti-western, primitive and crude. It mainly focuses on race, ethnicity, culture, human identity, intersection of gender, cultural differences, language metaphor etc. In this context discussions on the emergence of the New Literatures crossing the geo-political barriers are crucial.

This seminar provides a platform to explore and delineate these issues and related concerns.

You are cordially invited to this seminar
