Introduction

Student-centered learning means inverting the traditional teacher-centered understanding of the learning process and putting students at the centre of the learning process. Through peer-to-peer interaction, collaborative thinking can lead to an abundance of knowledge. In placing a teacher closer to a peer level, knowledge and learning is enhanced, benefitting the student and classroom overall.

CRITERION	II	Teaching-Learning and Evaluation
KEY INDICATOR	2.3	Teaching - Learning Process
METRIC	2.3.1	Student-centric methods such as experiential learning, participative learning and problem-solving methodologies are used for enhancing learning experiences:

Programme Objectives:

- Foster interaction and collaboration among students, allowing them to share perspectives, insights, and knowledge.
- Improve students' ability to express their thoughts, ask questions, and engage in meaningful dialogue.
- Guide students in exploring topics independently, promoting self-directed learning and inquiry.

Programme Report:

Guided seminars are structured, interactive sessions where students engage in focused discussions on specific topics with the assistance of a facilitator or expert. This was conducted to the second year and third year students of B. Com Professional Programmes. These seminars are led or moderated by the teachers of the department and other experts and they provide direction, support, and expertise throughout the session.

Programme Attained Outcome:

- Students gain a deeper understanding of the topic through expert guidance and interactive discussions.
- This helps to develop critical thinking, problem-solving, and communication skills.
- Students have the opportunity to connect with peers and professionals, fostering collaborative relationships and knowledge sharing.

3. Group presentations

Programme Objectives:

- Foster teamwork and collaboration among group members as they work together to prepare and deliver the presentation.
- Develop and refine individual and collective public speaking skills, including delivery, engagement, and audience interaction.
- Improve skills in creating and using visual aids and other presentation materials to support the delivery.

Programme Report: Group presentations are conducted to achieve multiple objectives that benefit both the individual members and the group as a whole. The students of 1st, 2nd and 3rd year batches of B. Com Professional provide a platform for collaborative learning, enhance communication and presentation skills, and support the achievement of specific educational or organizational goals during their second, fourth and sixth semester classes.

Programme Attained Outcome:

- The presentation is well-organized, with a logical flow and clear structure, making it easy for the audience to follow.
- The presentation is delivered in a professional manner, including adherence to time constraints and respectful interaction with the audience.

The presentation is well-received, with positive feedback from the audience and evaluators.

2. Internship:

Programme Objectives:

- Enhance the practical and professional skills of interns in their field of study or interest.
- Provide interns with real-world experience and exposure to the workplace environment, culture, and dynamics.
- Allow interns to apply theoretical knowledge gained in their academic studies to practical, real-world projects and tasks.

Programme Report: The students of B. Com Professional (2022 and 2021 admission) completed their internships during their vacation time. They conducted their internships in abroad as well as in national level during these periods. Among these 17 students from third year and 11 from second year completed their internships from various institutions located in UAE, and others from national level institutions. This program aimed to provide interns with practical work experience, enhance their professional skills, and offer insights into the industry.

Programme Attained Outcome:

- Interns reported significant improvement in technical and professional skills.
- Interns gained valuable insights into the workplace environment and industry practices.
- Interns built strong professional networks with colleagues, mentors, and industry experts.
- Many interns reported a clearer understanding of their career goals and interests.
- Interns contributed to meaningful projects, adding value to the organization.
