HEAD OF THE DEPARTEMENT

Presented By
AJINA V S & J BHAGAVATHI
STUDENT COORDINATORS

Planning Phase

It was during the beginning days of March that, Inquesta the Research Forum, Department of Commerce, Christ College, Irinjalakkuda was planning to conduct a workshop on Qualitative Data Analysis. Asst. Prof Muvish K M , was assigned as the staff coordinator of the workshop. Ms. Ajina V S, Research Scholar of the department was selected to be the student Convenor along with J S Bhagavathi (Research Scholar) who would be assisting her.

Dr.Nimitha Aboobaker, Assistant Professor, Department of Commerce, CUSAT consented to be the resource person for the Workshop. May 2nd and 3rd was conveniently selected as the workshop dates. A Whatsapp group was created by the student coordinators and duties were assigned to various scholars.

Google forms were circulated in around the state. A total of 32 participants registered for the program out of which 10 of them were from Pondicherry University and one participant from Mangalore. Accommodation facility was also arranged for all those needful participants.

Execution Phase

Day 1

The inaugural session began by 9.30 with a prayer rendered by Sreelaksmi K, Research scholar of the Department. J S Bhagavathi, the scholar of the department welcomed the gathering. Dr. Sudheer Sebastain, the Controller of Examination and Principal In-Charge of Christ College Irinjalakkuda, inaugurated the workshop. He addressed the gathering on the importance of using qualitative methods and how it would create an impact in the field of research. Ms. Ajina V S, the student coordinator introduced the eminent resource person. Her contributions towards academics and research made her one of the most sought after resource persons in the field of research. Dr. Nimitha Aboobaker delivered the keynote address. She talked about how relevant is qualitative research as well as how is mixed method of research relevant. Dr. Linto Alappat who was supposed to felicitate the gathering couldn't make it to the inauguration due to some personal inconvenience. Dr. Muvish K M, the workshop coordinator felicitated the gathering followed by Arya N D, research scholar of the department who delivered the vote of thanks.

The First technical session was an introduction to qualitative analysis where the participants with the help of the materials given by the resource person delved into the essence of qualitative data. With a preliminary knowledge on qualitative data, the participants left for lunch.

Post lunch session dealt with the installation of NVivo and basic coding which the scholars enthusiastically learned from the resource person. A basic knowledge of thematic and cluster analysis were learnt by the scholars.

Day 2

The scholars on the second day started by learning auto coding. Case classification, image, video, audio interpretations were practically done by the participants. Post lunch session the participants learned to use data scrapper and how to analyse online sentiments. It was a fulfilled learning session in which the participants learnt through role plays.

By 3.00 pm, the valedictory session started. The session began by the feedbacks of the participants. The participants provided feedback on various aspects such as the resource person, the workshop content, food, accommodation etc. Dr. Linto Alappat in spite of his busy schedule made it a point to attend the valedictory function. He spoke about the research activities of the college and his intention to learn qualitative data analysis. Dr. Arun Balakrishnan M B, Research Head, Department of Commerce, Christ College. Irinjalakkuda gave away the vote of thanks. He also insisted on the importance of qualitative data analysis which began its momentum a decade ago.

A photo session was arranged by which the workshop concluded.

Report on the Faculty Orientation Programme 2024 Christ College, Irinjalakuda

The One-Week Faculty Orientation Programme conducted from May 20th to May 28th, 2024, aimed to provide faculty members with valuable insights into professional development, institutional culture, and teaching strategies, while underlining the significance of ethical practices and a robust code of conduct.

Overview of the Programme

The program, meticulously structured over seven days, included sessions on institutional culture, technology integration, teaching ethics, and learning enhancement techniques. Highlights included workshops on Moodle, Microsoft tools, Outcome-Based Education (OBE), and sustainable campus initiatives.

Sessions on ethical conduct and professionalism, such as the talk on the "Code of Conduct and General Discipline for Faculty Members" by Fr. Dr Vincent T, were central to reinforcing the moral compass guiding faculty behaviour. These discussions were complemented by segments on social-emotional learning, green initiatives, and faculty roles in the evolving education landscape.

Importance of Ethical Values in Education

Ethical values form the cornerstone of any educational institution. They guide decision-making, foster respect, and cultivate a positive learning environment. The programme emphasized the need for educators to model integrity, fairness, and accountability, as these values directly impact students' character development and societal contributions.

Key Takeaways:

1. Integrity in Teaching: Educators must prioritize honesty and transparency in all interactions, from classroom discussions to evaluations.
2. Empathy and Inclusivity: Social-emotional learning sessions underscored the importance of understanding and addressing diverse student needs.
3. Environmental Responsibility: Initiatives such as green campus projects highlighted the ethical obligation towards sustainability.

Role and Importance of the Code of Conduct

A well-defined code of conduct serves as a framework for acceptable behaviour, ensuring that faculty maintain professionalism and respect in their interactions. Dr Shinto's session provided clarity on disciplinary protocols and their role in upholding institutional standards.

Key Components Addressed:

1. Professional Boundaries: Guidelines to maintain constructive relationships with students and colleagues.
2. Academic Integrity: Emphasis on avoiding plagiarism, ensuring fairness in assessments, and upholding research ethics.
3. Institutional Representation: Ensuring faculty actions reflect positively on Christ College's reputation.

Conclusion

The Faculty Orientation Programme 2024 successfully combined skill development with moral and ethical training, preparing educators to lead by example in their professional and personal lives. By integrating ethical values and a strong code of conduct into the curriculum, the program ensured that faculty members are not only competent educators but also role models for students and society at large.

Report on the Faculty Development Programme 2024 Christ College, Irinjalakuda

Date: Thursday, May 30, 2024

Venue: Rev. Fr. Jose Thekkan Seminar Hall

Christ College, Irinjalakuda, under the aegis of the Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC), organized a one-day Faculty Development Programme (FDP) on the theme "Professional Integrity and Devotion of Educators." The event aimed to inspire educators to embody ethical principles and a sense of purpose in their professional lives.

Resource Person:

Dr. Shyju Marar, representing Aeroglint International, Dubai, conducted the session. With his extensive experience and engaging delivery, Dr. Marar offered insightful perspectives on the values and commitment essential for modern educators.

Programme Details:

The FDP commenced at 9:30 AM in the presence of a large gathering of faculty members. Rev. Dr. Jolly Andrews CMI, Principal of Christ College, and Dr. Shinto K G, IQAC Coordinator, graced the occasion with their presence.

Dr. Marar addressed various aspects of professional integrity, emphasizing the importance of educators as role models in shaping society. He shared actionable strategies for integrating ethical practices in teaching and fostering an environment of trust and dedication among students and peers.

Participants:

The seminar saw active participation from over 100 faculty members from various departments. Attendees engaged enthusiastically in the interactive segments of the session, contributing their thoughts and queries, which further enriched the discussions.

Conclusion:

The programme concluded with a vote of thanks, expressing gratitude to Dr. Shyju Marar for his valuable contributions and to the organizing team for ensuring the event's success. Participants left the seminar inspired and motivated to uphold the principles of professional integrity and devotion in their teaching careers.

AWARENESS PROGRAMME ON INVASIVE PLANTS AND PLASTIC WASTE MANAGEMENT

(World Meteorological Day 2024) - 23rd March 2024

The state of Kerala is blessed with rich flora and fauna. This include indigenous and exotic species. These exotic species when cause ecological and economic impact in the introduced habitat are termed as invasive species and the process is called biological invasion. Among the rich floral diversity, eighty-two plants have been reported as invasive throughout the state.

Creating awareness at a grass root level is a crucial part of managing invasive alien plants. This plays a very important role in further introductions of these species. Towards this, an awareness programme was conducted to the cleaning staff of Christ College (Autonomous), Irinjalakuda by the Department of Botany in association with Biodiversity club on 23rd March 2024. They were made aware of the various invasive alien plants in the campus and the various negative impacts of these species. They were also given knowledge about the management practices which can be implemented to check the spread of the plants. The management programme was led by Dr. R Soumya, Dr. Bijoy C., and Ms Sreelakshmi V . V. the awareness talk was given by Ms. Poornima P P, student coordinator, Biodiversity club. The programme was conducted in the forenoon session. As a part of the programme, the staff were also made aware of the various invasive plants infested areas in the campus by direct visit to those areas. They also got a on field experience about the growing nature of the plants.
